

Call for papers : Coronavirus Disease (COVID 19)

Jorjani Biomedicine Journal

The world is struck by the COVID-19 pandemic and we are going through an unprecedented public health situation. Jorjani Biomedicine Journal (JBJ) is currently planning a special issue on this topic and encourage all papers related to any aspect of novel coronavirus (COVID-19). JBJ is a peer-reviewed international journal for biomedical sciences. In addition, manuscripts published in journal will be available open access. Jorjani Biomedicine Journal publishes original research article, review, short communication, case report and letter to the editor.

Rapid reviews and processing of submitted papers will be undertaken. Authors should prepare their manuscript according to the instruction for authors described at the journal site (<http://jorjanijournal.goums.ac.ir/page/21/Instructions-for-Authors>) and submit to the manuscript submission portal. Submissions can be made at any time until further notice.
